Biobarica Chamber Therapy

The Biobarica chamber increases the amount of oxygen your blood can carry. With this increase comes restored normal levels of blood gases and tissue function to promote healing and fight infection.

It is used to treat:

- An air or gas embolism
- Anemia due to severe blood loss
- Some brain and sinus infections
- Carbon monoxide poisoning
- Burns resulting from heat or fire
- Skin grafts
- Necrotizing soft tissue infection
- Arterial insufficiency, or low blood flow in the arteries
- Acute traumatic ischemia, which may involve a crush injury
- Gas gangrene
- A radiation injury, for example, as a result of cancer treatment
